NEW HAVEN CONN., NEWS.

H. Hurd, Agent and Correspondent, 288 Wooster, Street.

Nothing but praiseworthy remarks are thus far bestowed upon patrolman Hooper for his urbanity, correct deportment, and the graceful manner in which he wears his new honors. Pastor Hammond's wife is seriously indisposed. Because we send you no word concerning births and marriages in our midst, don't set us down as slow altogether, will you, Mr. Editor? LaGrippe is here, and we're "in it," knee deep, but Dr. C. V. R. Creed our only colored physician is equal to all emergencies and yet the race do not patronize him as they should; pity, but 'tis true. He is affable, courteous, talented and all that; simply wants to be met half way, you understand.

We have a "specialists" here however, who is a wonder-worker. Dr. Daniel Hurd is his title. He cures diphtheria. Has not lost one in more than a hundred. And he's just old fashioned enough to keep his secret to himself; and away from his white brethren, to whom and upon whom, as a rule, too many of our race are ready to confer every blessing under Heaven; and thereby is the race hindered in making many a forward movement. A Mrs. D— died in this city several years ago and left her estate, possibly worth $2,000, to the son of a white lawyer who refused to rent his own houses to colored tenants. How much better to have left it so that some poor colored student might have the benefit of it, and so elevate the race and rear a lasting monument to the name and fame of the donor.

I never yet respected a white man sufficiently to be willing to forge one comfort, one pleasure, or one principle of my race, and I shan't have anything to leave our self-styled superiors, when I join the majority but my sincere deprecation of their treatment of my people. On Fast Day a picked nine from the Olympian Athletic club met on the diamond against the "Edgewoods." The score will indicate the amount of pleasure furnished a large concourse of spectators—27 to 12. The umpire's life was spared. The picked nine won.

Councilman Beulah has succeeded in having quite a number of colored laborers added to the street cleaning force. A fancy dress reception which promises to be the leading social event of the season, will be given under the auspices of a committee of ladies at Lorin's Academy April 3rd.

Miss May Ellis of New Bedford, Mass., is the guest of Miss Adelaide Saunders. Miss Maud Hill of Springfield, Mass., is the guest of Miss Nellie Platto. Miss Bertie Dottery of New York city, is the guest Miss Sadie Fleming. Mrs. J. Hall was called suddenly to Pittsburg on account of the sickness of her son. The Cong. Sabbath School gave a grand concert last Sunday evening. The church was beautifully decorated and was packed to its utmost extent with an intelligent and appreciative audience. Much credit is due Supt. W. H. Ransom, and Pastor Miller who may justly feel proud of his Sunday School. H. H.

NO LONGER HALF PRICE.

SPRAGUE TURNS THE SCALE—TOO MUCH FOR PRICE—HOW THE THING WAS DONE.

Every since the publication of the Pilot it has been the boast of those who had it in charge that the paper would surpass any that has ever been published at the Capitol of the nation. To hear those talk who had the paper under their immediate eye one would have presumed that it would have been the greatest journal of the age, if talk would have made it so. The paper under the management of Mr. Pendleton was decently conducted and the public and the personal friends of the management were giving it their undivided support. Not being satisfied the managers decided to sell out or rather one of them, Mr. Pendleton, who thought according to the version of Mr. Sprague that he was losing money or some one was being robbed, so Mr. Sprague bought Mr. Pendleton's interest out.

HOW THIS WAS DONE, is too laughable to mention. Mr. Pendleton said that he wanted to sell out his interest; Mr. Sprague offered him one hundred dollars for it, but before the bargain was consummated Mr. Sprague asked what was to be sold? Mr. H. Price Williams, who claimed to own one half of the concern, invited Mr. Sprague into a room and informed him that he had certain cases of type for sale. Mr. Pendleton did not say a word, but apparently acquiesced in what Mr. Williams said. This of course was satisfactory to Mr. Sprague, and he gave his check for one hundred dollars, which bought out Pendleton's interest.

Before Mr. Sprague took charge he advised Mr. Williams to turn over all books, papers, etc., to him, and was done. Price then left for Texas.

NOT BEING RETURNED with the present Posters, Mr. Sprague decided to change his office on M. bet. 15th and 16th Sts., n. w. Just about the time Mr. Sprague was about to remove his office, Mr. Pendleton entered the room in the same building, where the office was situated and informed Mr. Sprague that certain cases of type belonged to him. To this Mr. Sprague demurred and informed Mr. Pendleton that he must not touch one thing that was in the room. Pendleton allowed Sprague to use his own discretion, which of course he did.

PRICE RETURNED to the city from Texas and published an elaborate account of his visit. Everybody thought the Pilot was being conducted serenely, until last Friday night. The paper was mailed pretty early; Sprague with Price went to the Post Office with the mail and for fear that Price would not arrive home in safety, Sprague carried him home in his carriage. This was about 11:30 o'clock. While Price was dreaming sweet dreams, and presuming to himself what would take place the next day, Sprague returned to the office and absolutely took there from the Pilot office. He had a wagon to drive up to the office door and every case of type was put into the wagon and carried to Sprague's house. It was indeed amusing. The next day, which was Saturday, Price returned to the office and to his surprise he found that everything had been removed except his writing desk. Price's condition can only be described by those who saw him.

HE CONSULTS AN ATTORNEY but the poor fellow gets but little consolation. He met a distinguished citizen on the street and told his tale of woe but all without effect. It only reminded those of how Price served Cromwell. The last thing that he heard of him was what method he will adopt to get even.

KERNAN'S NEW WASHINGTON THEATRE.

Whallen and Martell's Mammoth Combination, will be the attraction at Kernan's theatre next week, beginning on Monday night, promises a varied entertainment, and will introduce many new faces and features. Among the great cards are the Martell family, Harry, Wilson, Lena, Hattie, and LePetite Lottie, who are without doubt the greatest acrobats and most accomplished bicyclists and unicyclists in the world. Their act is one of the prettiest athletic performances ever witnessed. The Martell brothers are the only artists who turn hand to hand, feet to feet and shoulder to shoulder somersaults in rapid succession. Among the sensations are the Bros. De Gray, who will give a series of experiments in hypnotism that are interesting, instructive and amusing. McIntyre and Heath, the Ethiopian delineators are great cards. In addition to these artists, there are Harry and Mildred Loucler, marvelous mind readers and expert jugglers; Golden and Quigg, the Irish character artists, Tom and Hattie Naun, sketch artists; Dan Regan the popular banjo comedian; Carrie Ezier, the vivacious vocalist and sprightly dancer, Miller, a bright and beautiful artist; Prof. Kapper, the celebrated wire walker, Dixon and Lang, the famous American impersonators Ladies matinee Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday. J. S. Coolidge HARNESS ATTACHMENT Patented NOVEMBER 13TH, 1888.

J. S. Coolidge's Harness attachment is the best thing of the kind ever put on the market. It is so arranged that any one can secure it to any harness, in three minutes, without cutting the same in any way, right out in the street. It can be taken off the harness in two minutes, and the harness returned to its former style without the least trouble or exertion. It saves time in hitching and unhitching as a horse can be attached to the vehicle in less than 30 seconds and extricated in less than 5 seconds. It is an ornament to the harness and contains nothing in its parts to get out of order, the case being so constructed that the straps can be lengthened or shortened as is required. The Bolt is removable secured so as to allow the spring to be removed when worn. The particular advantage this device possesses over others consists in the construction of the case and arrangements of the straps, whereby the same may be attached to any harness without cutting the same, as has been heretofore necessary in order to use devices of this character. To the loop of the Bolt may be attached lines 28, said lines being connected with the driver by suitable means, so that if the horse runs or becomes unmanageable, the tightening of the lines will draw the bolt 12, and the spring 24 will cast the plate 16 aside and release the animal from the vehicle. Any woman or child can hitch or unhitch a horse without the slightest trouble. Thousands of the attachments are being used every day.
